The Challenge: Most Water and Water-Based products we drink have two very common problems. 1) The water has been damaged, causing free radical damage and poor absorption. 2) The water is very acidic. A popular solution in combating these challenges has been with home unit technology that helps create an ionized "Negative ORP" pH Enhanced Alkaline water. The result is Electron rich water that helps with cellular hydration, combat free radicals, and a host of other benefits.

Unfortunately, until recently the only way to create Ionized Water from home was with EXPENSIVE Home Units ranging from $1,000 to $4,000 or more but it is not a convenient option while traveling or just simply away for the day.
